

David Daniel Casmier, born August 8, 1943 in Tacoma, WA, died on January 12, 2013 at the age of 69 in Vancouver. He was preceded in death by his parents, Daniel and Wilma Casmier, his first wife, Patricia Jones, and his stepfather, Elmer Jaeger.

He graduated from Puyallup High School in Puyallup, WA and served in the US Navy on the USS Buchannon during 3 deployments to the Gulf of Tonkin in the 1960s. David retired in 2005 after working for 38 years as an electrician at Puget Sound Energy in Western Washington.

David was known as a good friend who could fix anything. From a young age he took apart mechanical and electrical items to learn how they worked. It's no surprise he would learn how to build his own radios and computers. He especially enjoyed flowers, hiking in the mountains, skeet shooting, and spending time with family and friends. He cared about those he loved and gave of himself to family and friends without asking for anything in return. He had a heart of gold, a strong work ethic and was passionate about his family and beliefs.

He is survived by his wife Janet, sons Daniel and Mathew, brother, Richard, and sister, Joanne Curtis, step-sons Timothy and Joel Sagawa, step-daughter Sarah Wilshire, 7 grandchildren, 3 nephews. A funeral mass will be held at 11:00 AM on Saturday, January 19, 2013 at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church, 4723 NW Franklin St, Vancouver with a rosary preceding at 10:45AM

To reach the church in Vancouver take exit 3 (Main Street) on I-5 as you are heading South. Turn right onto NE 45th St and then turn right onto Franklin St. You will pass Washington, Columbus, and Daniels just before Franklin Street.
