Douglas Todd White beloved son, brother, father and friend to all, passed away at Lakewood, St. Clare Hospital in Washington on Friday, June 15, 2018.

Todd was born November 9, 1967 to Douglas Ray White (deceased) and Delsie Miller-Wiese in Salt Lake City, UT. He grew up in Salt Lake City, then graduated from Phoenix Institute of Technology in the field of Engine Mechanics, which proved to be his life-time career. Having moved to several job sites, Las Vegas, Round Mt. and Alaska, he finally settled in the state of Washington working for Potelco Inc. as their main engine builder.

He loved the outdoors and the thrill of dirt bikes, dune buggies and four wheelers at the dunes. He shared many good times on camping trips with Brandon, Shaun and Dustin Albrecht who he considered his brothers. He loved the many pups he cared for and they loved him. But most of all, he loved his family, Ryan White and Kayla White. He was selfless in his efforts to love, serve and provide for them. He truly practiced the art of charity in giving generous service to anyone at any time in need. If you had a problem he could figure it out and facilitate a solution... often time a very creative one.

He is survived by his mother Delsie Wiese, sisters Wendy Gidget Morris and Tamara Bramlett, his adopted son Ryan White and daughter Kayla White, along with many wonderful cousins, aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

A private celebration of life under the direction of Palm Northwest Mortuary will be held from 1:00 to 4:00PM on Friday, June 29, 2018 at 6701 North Jones Blvd., Las Vegas, NV 89131. Interment will be held at a later date at Palm Northwest Cemetery.
